

METHOD AND APPARATUS FOR ONLINE INTEGRATION OF OFFLINE DOCUMENT CORRECTION

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5

A method for making indirect corrections or modifications to online documents by generating an offline document, the corrections are inscribed onto the offline document, then the corrected offline document is scanned into the computer to form an online version of the offline document. Software instructions or code are then 10 executed to translate the online version of the offline document into an online document containing the corrections. In a preferred embodiment, the offline document is generated from an online document and the online version of the offline document is integrated or compared with the online document.

T05070-052950